Offering hope, help and healing on issues related to pornography and other unhealthy sexual behaviors.

Let us help train clergy, parish staff, and others to mend minds, save souls and heal hearts hurt by pornography and other unhealthy sexual behaviors.

There are many programs that offer information about pornography and recovery. But no amount of information, no matter how good it is, can accomplish huge changes in behaviors. Science is telling us that a new approach targeting brain systems that are responsible for habit and addiction is needed.

RECLAIM Sexual Health is a partnership between Elizabeth Ministry International and Candéo. With expertise in mental health, addiction recovery, neuroscience, and online technology, the Candéo professional team spent years creating a remarkable online recovery program. It has been tested and proven with thousands of struggling individuals in more than 80 countries worldwide.

Together, Elizabeth Ministry International, Catholic scholars, theologians and psychologists created a Catholic format for this powerful recovery program. RECLAIM is designed to bring the full support of our faith to recovery and healing.

Learn more from co-founders, Bruce and Jeannie Hannemann, as they share their own pornography recovery story, what advice can cause more damage, how to support someone in need and the amazing brain science behind addiction and healing. You will be given tools for the confessional, spiritual direction or other settings.

"Under my direction, Bruce and Jeannie Hannemann, of Elizabeth Ministry International, have been instrumental in creating a private, anonymous, online, recovery program for overcoming pornography and other unhealthy sexual behaviors. Their presentation unveiling this program at our Priest's Congress was excellent and received rave reviews. I am now very pleased to make you aware of this wonderful resource for hope, help and healing.

RECLAIM Sexual Health is a professional and science-based Catholic online program. Struggling individuals can safely go online and receive the education, tools, resources and support they so desperately need. In addition to helping those who are addicted, we must also reach out to their spouses, parents and other family members. RECLAIM provides free resources, training and support for family members, as well as clergy and counselors.

I am very impressed with the way in which RECLAIM has combined research-based brain science and recovery methods with the Theology of the Body and other important Catholic doctrines and teachings. Science and spirituality work in harmony to help individuals break free.

RECLAIM addresses one of the most serious attacks being waged on the family today! I have personally asked Elizabeth Ministry to take on this challenge and ask you to do whatever you can to support this vitally important ministry of hope."

ABOUT OUR COMPELLING AND INSPIRING SPEAKERS

"I do not think I am exaggerating when I say that I believe your approach will save many marriages and many souls."

Rev. Robert Sirico - President of Acton Institute

Bruce and Jeannie Hannemann are best known as the founders and directors of Elizabeth Ministry International, offering hope and healing on issues related to sexuality, childbearing and relationships. Together they manage a headquarters for over 700 registered chapters on six continents and operate a retreat center for direct service to those in need. They have been married for over thirty seven years and are blessed to be enjoying the grandparent stage of life!

As the "Mad Scientist and the Church Lady" they are dynamic speakers known for their unique way of bridging science and religion. They are qualified to speak on the topic of pornography and sex addiction from not only professional training, but from their own lived experience. At the request of Bishop David Ricken, they have shared their story of pornography and recovery in the press, on television and radio, with a desire to encourage others to seek help in overcoming porn addiction and offer hope for healing marriages. They were instrumental in the collaboration of scientists, psychologists, researchers, electronic learning technicians and Catholic leaders to create RECLAIM Sexual Health, a state of the art online recovery program for individuals struggling with pornography and other unhealthy sexual behaviors.

Bruce Hannemann, M.A.

As an author and public speaker, Bruce has shared his own recovery story with humility and candor. He is honored to tell his experience of God's restoration in his life and marriage.

Bruce brings a wealth of understanding of young adults and the ability to teach scientific concepts with over thirty years experience teaching science at the college level. Bruce earned a Master's Degree in Adult Christian Community Development with a concentration on Adult Learning.

His understanding of Theology of the Body combined with training in sex addiction recovery, brain science and the biochemistry of sexuality has put an end to the mystery of lust and given him a way to share God's plan for sexuality with proven answers that have touched the lives of many.

His witty personality, genuine compassion and ability to take complex topics and teach them in a down to earth manner has made him a popular presenter.

Jeannie Hannemann, M.A.

Jeannie has over thirty five years experience assisting families through a variety of formats, including as an educator, parish pastoral and family life minister, Catholic radio personality, consultant and retreat director. Jeannie has a Master's Degree in Adult Christian Community Development with a concentration in Family Life.

Jeannie's personal journey through her husband's pornography addiction, training in sexual addiction recovery, extensive work with hurting couples, and her belief in the power of God's grace makes her a sought after confidant and presenter.

Jeannie is an internationally recognized author, speaker and consultant. Her programs have won diocesan, state and national awards within the church and secular community. Drawing from lived experiences, advanced training and a strong faith, she offers practical tools to help people make wise life decisions, emotional tools for developing healthy relationships and spiritual tools to transform pain to peace.

"We believe Jeannie and Bruce Hannemann have not only the insight and knowledge on the problems of addiction to pornography and other unhealthy sexual behaviors, but the answer to it's recovery. We are grateful for their work and commitment to this very critical need, and wholeheartedly endorse their efforts."
